PLEASURE CRAFT ON HOLIDAY CRUISE

Scores of Yachtsmen Are Spending Memorial Day on the River.

RACES AT MATTAWOMAN ATTRACT MANY OWNERS

Sailing Vessels and Power Boats Will Compete—Many Go From Corinthian Club.

Of the fleet of about 1,000 pleasure craft of all sizes and kinds fully two-thirds left here yesterday or last night, or will leave here this morning on cruises of long or short duration. For the last two weeks pleasure craft owners have been spending all their idle time aboard their boats getting them in shape for the opening of the boating season, Decoration day. No matter if the boat lies idle the rest of the season, every owner makes an effort to go down the river Decoration day, in order that they may have good luck during the remainder of the season.

Races at Mattawoman.

Most of the boats flying the pennant of the Capital Yacht Club left here yesterday afternoon for a rendezvous in the mouth of Mattawoman creek, off which the club will have races to-day. The course is triangular, and prizes are offered for the winners in two events, the first for sailing vessels and the second for power boats. In the first class the entries will be the Freya, belonging to G. H. Bright; the Nenemoocha, belonging to L. F. Hewins; the Serene, Clyde Cruet, and the Orion, D. H. Fowler. The entrants in the motor-boat race will be the Helen III, H. H. Lewis, owner; Chrystella, D. T. Wright, owner; Sawah, Judge Aukam; Suwanee, A. O. and L. P. Clephane; Wanderer, H. C. Chandlee; the George C. Duval, Eugene Cochran; Louis K. S. J. Kubel; Hanana, Judge L. C. Strider, and several others. The barge yacht Javalin has also gone to Mattawoman and will serve as the committee boat during the races.

Corinthian Club Boats Under Way.

From the Corinthian Yacht Club, over on the Virginia side of the river near the Highway bridge yesterday afternoon went many of the boats on its cruise, and this morning the few boats left in the slips were preparing to get away. The same condition prevailed at the headquarters of the Eastern Branch Power Boat Association near the navy yard, and at the headquarters of the other aquatic clubs about the harbor.

The launch Billy, with C. H. Denley, her owner, and Frank Keyes, Robert Jones and Ross Serele aboard, left for the mouth of the river, to be gone until the latter part of this week. With C. H. Harbin and his family aboard, the launch Margaret H. has gone to Colonial Beach to remain until tomorrow evening. The Mercury, with Robert Smith, the Butler brothers, James Dunn and others aboard, will visit Colonial Beach and the Wisconsin river before returning home. Other launches that left with parties aboard for river parties to enjoy an outing on the water were the St. Charles, Capt. William Garner, Capt. Sanford and others, and the Pocantico, belonging to Harry Lansdale, and the Florence, owned by Frederick Walker.

Marion S. Overhauled.

J. P. Stewart, who recently purchased the handsome cruiser who at Baltimore at this city, has renamed his craft the Marion S., after having had her thoroughly overhauled and put in condition for service. The Marion S. is one of the most attractive looking boats on the river, and is modern in every respect. She is forty-five feet long, ten feet six inches beam and has sleeping accommodations for six persons. She is fitted with a twenty-two-horsepower motor that gives the yacht a speed of about ten miles an hour. Mr. Stewart will make a trip to Colonial Beach today aboard his new craft. Admiral George Webber with his family aboard the speedy launch J. H. Bradley has gone to Oceanview for the holiday, and the Jennie L., belonging to the Guthridge brothers, has gone to Colonial Beach.

Clyde Cruet of the Capital Yacht Club had his handsome auxiliary power yawl Serene out on the marine railway at Regan's for repairs and for cleaning and painting. Capt. Cruet is getting his craft in trim for the Decoration day races of the Capital Yacht Club and she was put overboard Friday. The Serene is one of the speedy sailing craft of the Potomac fleet, and gives a good account of herself in races whether for long or short distances.

Power Launches Repaired.

The power launches Culprit Fay, belonging to Capt. Jack Lindsay, and Benjamin N., belonging to Capt. William Neitz, which were out on the railway, have completed repair work and painting and have been put overboard ready for service.

Capt. S. H. Bright, owner of the yawl yacht Freya, had his vessel out on Regan's railway, following the Serene, to have bottom cleaned and painted in preparation for taking part in the Decoration day races of the Capital Yacht Club. The boat was launched from the railway yesterday ready for service. Commodore Eugene Cochran has had his handsome cruising yacht Duval painted and overhauled, and she was placed in commission yesterday. She left with Commodore Cochran, Galt Burns, William J. Staub, Charles Wagon, C. Van Aiken, Albert Herbert, Joseph Harvey and F. Lloyd aboard for an over-Monday cruise on the river. The Duval is one of the most comfortable boats on the river, and Commodore Cochran and his friends make frequent trips aboard her in the summer months. The overhauling of the yacht Stranger, belonging to W. C. Vickery, was completed yesterday and the yacht, which was out on her first cruise of the season, she will be absent from the city for a day or two. During the summer Capt. Vickery expects to make long cruises aboard her.

CONTROLLER REJECTS STUDENT CAMP BILLS

Downey Holds Military Instruction Expenses Not Legally Provided by Law.

Although the controller of the Treasury, George E. Downey, again turns down the legal status of military camps of instruction for students, refusing to authorize payment of bills already incurred, there is still hope that a way will be found to hold such students' camps this year without going foul of the law. It seems probable that expenses already incurred for camp and instruction, and conducted without proper authority in law, as repudiated by Controller Downey, will not be paid except by favor of a congressional appropriation. But the War Department is now at work on a plan for future military students' camps which will have approval of the controller of the Treasury as legally established and conducted. What this plan is remains to be set forth, when elaborated by the army officials.

Controller's Ruling.

In his ruling today, confirming a former decision, Controller Downey says he would freely yield to the arguments presented by the judge advocate general of the army for the sake of avoiding a disallowance in the accounts of a disbursing officer making payment under the circumstances of these cases if he could find authority for so doing.

"But I cannot," he adds. "I repeat my belief in the desirability of such camps of instruction, and I add that if the question could be regarded as one of doubt, such as is frequently presented, I would willingly resolve the doubt in favor of the camps, and allow credit for the payments made; but I cannot so regard it, and I cannot conclude otherwise than as indicated in my original decision."

"Upon presentation of the matter to Congress, it may be fit to authorize these students' camps and appropriate the necessary funds therefor, and in that connection I have no doubt it will see fit also to relieve Lieut. Barnard from these necessary disallowances."

Lieut. Barnard is the disbursing officer in whose accounts the case arose. His payments remain disallowed.

UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT.

Tennessee Tribunal Confirms Decision Punishing Publisher.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 29.—Gilbert D. Raine, former publisher of the Memphis News-Scimitar, was in contempt of court when he published in his paper an order by Circuit Judge A. B. Pittman prohibiting the publication of certain affidavits in the case of a man sentenced to a decision rendered by the Tennessee supreme court at Jackson, Tenn., today. The supreme court reversed the court of civil appeals and affirmed the decision of the circuit court of Shelby county, which sentenced Mr. Raine to pay a fine of $50 and serve ten days in jail.

The affidavits in the case never were published. Justice Green, in handing down the opinion, declared the court acted on the theory that no prejudicial influence ought to be allowed to go to a jury.

According to the court there are only three cases of similar character in the legal history of the United States.

Joe Harris, colored, was convicted at Petersburg, Va., of the murder of Algie Malone, also colored, March 7 and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.
